DEATH OF JOHN VAN BUREN. Full Particulars of His Demise—Preparations for His Funcral—Peculiarities of the Man—Interesting Resume of His Infle-Action of the Courts in Regard to His bottle

The steamer Scotis, which arrived at this port resterday, brought the body of Mr. John Van Birren, who died on the voyage on the 14th inst., of disease of the kidneys.

SICKNESS AND LAST MOMENTS. Mr. Van Buren, accompanied by his daughte ad nivee, left New York on the 16th of Maand niere, left New York of the 10th of May last on bord the some steemer which brought his remains to this port. The tilp to Europe and four through that country was not undertaken solely for the recovery of his health, that having been tolerably good up to the time of his depar-ture. The Journey was mudetaken partly for pleasare, and for the benefit of the health of his bulle shall Ann. a young lady of photocon, who pleasure, and for the benefit of the health of his only child Ann. a young lady of inbrench, who went with him. Prior to his roturn he had been spending a few days at the residence of Mr. Dinstan, of the Irm of Duncan, Sherman & Co., in the Hightands of Seotland, and had also paid a light prior to Lord Palhoustic, a Scottish nobleman residing in the same parts. He entharked for his return passage to America on board the Scotta at Liverpool, on the 6th hist. At this tonce he appeared to be in the eujoyment of his usual health. On Sainrday, the 7th hist, the physician of the vessel, Dr. Brice, was informed that Mr. Van Buren was quite ill, and was invited down to his state room to prescribe for him. The Octor found him extremely delirious and hoor. ing under a serious disease of the kidneys. The patient refused to hold conversation with any person. The Ductor saw from the first that the case was hopeless, and immediately entered into consultation with Capt. Judkms about having the patient landed at Queenstown. Upon the carnest request of relations, however, this idea was abandoned. Dr. Crune, a physician of New York, who was on board, was then called into consultation by Dr. Brice. They both considered that his recovery was out of the question, but this recovery was out of the question, but thought that he probably might last until the arrival of the vessel at New York. Duniel flindman, a forward houd, an extremely thind and atman, a forward band, an extremely kind and attentive man, was detailed by the Captain to net in the capteity of nurse, a duty which he performed so well as to elicit the encomains of eyery friend of the decressed on board. From this time until the hour of his death the decreased was quite delicious. Now and then, particularly during the presence of his daughter, who was unremitting in her attentions, the light of reason would return, but he would conductally persist in regarding his discuss as very light, and secured to feel confident that he would soon recover. During the puroxysms of delirium his mind dwelt upon old pholitical associations, and both the doctor and the nurse write in testimony that frequently for hours at a timele would decrease; in his accusioned happy colloquat ven, upon gas trem in the Usion, and now when they men in scenaria we turn anound and kile them out." Then again be would speak of retiring from all political excitement and spending the renaindur-of his life in some quiet and sectuded country retreat. "I will give," said he at one time, "my party four more speeches, and then they must help themselves." On the morning of the 19th territory. the morning of the 13th Instant he com-

On the morning of the 13th Instant he compianted of having been quite uneasy and in pain during the night previous; towards evening he assured all impriers that he felt much better. About eight o'clock p. m of the some day, he was visited by the Doctor, who found thin quite same and much radilled in spitts. He took his modicine and sold he felt much better. Its daughter stayed with him until about haft-past ton, at which time she was relieved by the nurse, Daniel Hindman, who came to stay with the patient for the rest of the night. About eleven o'clock the nurse was requested by Mr. Van Hern to held up his head, upon doing which, he noticed a great change in the eyes and countenance of the sick min. He immediately called Miss Van Buren, who slopt in a room adjoining.

arent A very few infantes after the withdrawa f lifs child, Mr. Van Buren expired, without struggle.

The fields of the deceased hinds the body hid on with care in the state room. In the morning the Misses Van Buren, daughter and niese, were informed of the melancholy event, and after they had recovered from the first over whething effect.

It was then deposited for better preservation in the nort sponser boat.

Yesterday attenuous the body of Mr. Van Buren was removed from the stramer Scoth to Grace Charch, under the supervision of the saveton, Mr. Brown.

The remains will be placed in a leaden coffin, nearly covered by a rosewood case. On the lid of the latter will be a large silver plate, bearing this inscribtion.

of the crowd would break out into hand to hand fights—when the fists would play to the right and left with apparent indiscrimination, and the proceedings would be entirely disorganized and the coeffings would be entirely disorganized and the coeffings would be entirely disorganized and the coeffings would be seeder drowned in the 'manufacture's the the 'manufacture ccedings would be entirely assorganized and the voice of the speaker drowned in the tumult; John Van Buren would wait his turn patiently, until the sudden outbreak had exhausted itself, and then, with a wave of his hand, a pleasant smile, a merry twinkle of his eye, he would arrest the attention of the peaceably disposed elements, langing on the outskirts and around the plation m, and by some happy allusion for witty phrase he never failed to gather in the floating turbulence of the quarrelsome part of the meeting, and keep it in easy subjection until all thoughts of lighting were forgotten in lunghter at the fun or absorbed by the close logic of the speaker.

Mr. Van Buren's start in social life grew out of his first trip to Europe, and the circumstance of it gave his his title of "Prince John." Many persons suppose that the title was given him because his father was President; but this is a mistake. While Martin Van Buren was President John made a visit to Europe, and during his stay in London was presented at the court of the then youthful Queen Victoria, and danced with her. This was in 1888. When the news of the affair was received in this country, the Herald noticed it, and recommended an alliance between the two great Anglo-Saxon nations by the marriage of an English quou and an American prince. Preference, however, was given to a German prince.

JUS NONCHALANGE AND DRY HUMOR.

JO 1865 Mr. Van Buron ran on the ticket with Gen. Sloom for Attorney General, and though satisfied at all times of his defeat, appeared at all times most sanguine of success. One day by went to one of the newspaper offices and announced that he would be ten thousand dollars in gold that. Slacen would be ten thousand dollars in gold that. Slacen would be decided. The next day he received a note accepting the best from, as the described him. One Erw tence Jeione, a Wall street lanker, who was popularly supposed to have a little surplus cash. Ile wrote to Mr. Poter Cugger, relating what Mr. Jeromo proposed to do, and Mr. Carger mawered he was busy. He telegraphed to Dean Richmond, who answered that he was steep in New York Contral mations at Gov. Supmour, who rejiled that he was busy stamping the State. Finding none of these were open to a good thing, Van Buren called on Mr. Jorouc, discussed the bet as the most serious of matters, amonomed that it was open for acceptance only until one o'clock (it was then welve,) and then deliberately dispined as to what bank should be the holder of the stakes until the hear with

FREADING MATTER ON EVERY PAGE.

The McCray House Destroyed by Fire. A fire broke out in the barn in the rear and attached to the well known McCray House last evening about six o'clock. It is reported to have originated in the explosion of a lamp in the bay loft and spread rapidly, soon enveloping the entire barn. Being in close proximity to the Meflames that poured torth in that direction. All jungme. He was severely burned, and but for th offorts were therefore directed to saving the contents of the building.

Thanks to the abscrits and efficiency of the Fire Department and citizens, nearly all the hotel fur-niture was safely removed, including the personal property of guests and boarders, the hotel safe,

The extent of the building and the mass of flame mounting the oir, and the showers of ciuders and sparks flying on every side, placed the surrounding wooden tenements in considerable langer, but through the strenuous exertions of the Fire Department and the application of wet blankets to the roofs and front of the buildings, the fire did not extend beyond the hotel building, except to an adjoining ope-story building occupied as A fish and oyster depot by Mr. Wm. H. Livingston, whose loss will not exceed $150. The building was however torn down and not burned. Mr. Livingston had no insurance. Mr. N. R. Bates, the proprietor and haddord of the McCray House The hotel was built some six years ago by Mr. A. J. McCray, who conducted it till the latter part of 1864, when he sold it to Mr Rites.

At the time of high prices and general inflation of values here, the property was rated and probably cost in the neighborhood of $24,000, but of course had depreciated with the decline of real estate for the past year.

The sympathies of the community will be extended to Mr. Bates in his severe lesses, and also to the other sufferers by this calamity.

THE SQUIRREL HERT YESTERDAY .- The Ti tusville hunting party had a fine day's sport yes-terday. They started before breakfast and returned in the evening, having scouled the woods injevery direction for miles around. The following is the amount of their game: Three wood-cocks, two partridges, one rabbit, two owls, two hun dred and fifty-six squirrels, making a total coun of three hundred and nine. The sporting party consisted of twenty, and was divided into companies under command of Captains Me Crum and G. B. Abbey, respectively.

The count of Captain McCrum's company ex-

[Editorial Correspondence.]

Boston House, Corny, ? Thursday, 9 a. m., Oct. 18. Our "family party" being detained here by mother accident, which occurred at Warren, on ho P. & E. R. R., this morning, I have improved the interval to collect additional particulars of the terrible smash up on the A. &. G. W. R. R.,

near Union, yesterday morning:
Of the forty or more wounded passengers who were brought to the Boston House for medical treatment, the greater part were enabled to cave for their respective destinations this morning. Only thirteen or fifteen remain. No deaths have yet occurred, but several of the rictims are still in a precarious state. Among them are Mrs. Elizabeth Rivers, of Cincinnati, severaly injured in spine and from a fractured rib. She was secompanied by her five little children, the eldest a boy of nine years. None of them; were so severely injured as the mother, but all their faces are bruised and swollon. Mrs. Rivers' case is considered more hopeful this morning, and the prospect of her recovery is very favorable, notwithstanding she resterday executed her will for the disposal of her property.

Mr. S. Miner, of Titusville, is here attending New York, who were on their way to Titusville, on the lil-fated train, and sustained sovere injurics. Mr. B. was cut in the back of highend and his spine also injured. His wife had several sewere contusions of the head, and remained for long time insensible. It is hoped they may be able to leave for Titusville this evening. Mr Boughton is a clergyman, and agent for the Sca tuon's Friend Society. He was returning from his labors in the West.

Mrs. Mary L. Durphy, a widow lady from Rochester, and matron in the Penitentiary there, is suffering from two Groken ribs, and Mr. W. J. Durant, of New York, is confined with similar

Conductor White, the engineer, Howe, and the fireman, all shockingly injured were removed Cray House, and connected with it by sheds and 10 Mendville, and at last accounts were alive. Jor fences, it was found impossible to arrest the The fireman was found inextricably fast with the timely discovery and relief from his perilons po sition would soon have been burned to death

The Rail and Company used every exertion to contribute to the relief and comfort of the sufwhere Mr. E. A. Davis, the energetic Superluten dent, provided amply for their accommodation and the company surgeons. Dr. Stubbs and Spratt, rendered prompt professional attention. The citizens of Cony, and particularly the ladies. mannested a praiseworthy sympathy for the unfortunate passengers, and were unremitting in their efforts to contribute to their comfort.

I am indebted to Dr. Stabbs for the following list of sufferers. Except those whose injuries are described, they are not considered scrious: Miss Frank Howard, Springfield, Mass.; Jacob Williams, Corry : J. Willienson, Cattainugus Co., N. Y.; David Scammo, New York; H. H. Pulam, Reno, Pa.; Mattin Baheock, fracture of the orn near shoulder, cut and brutsed, Frewsburg, N. Y.; Edward L. number taken to Meadville. Of the one hundred passengers on the ill-fated train, there were but two that escaped unharmed. There seems to be little room for doubt that this terrible disaster was deliberately planned and excented for the purpose of robbing the rictins. A rail had been removed from the inside of the curve, and the train thus precipitated down an embankment of forty feet. The cars voiced twice over in this descent, and but for a line of becches and maples hardering the bank of French creek, nothing could have prevented the entire train and its living contents from being incied ally knocked into sulinters-or, to use the more ron-work of the coaches, there is nothing that an be used for any purpose but fuel, and while the victims of this fiendish outrage were lying unconscious amid the debris, or painfully endeavoring to extrigate their hodies from the annalling ereck, they were robbed and plundered by men who had apparently come to their assistance .-There is no doubt about this. A haly passenge testifies that she saw a man deliberately search the pockets of another who was lying insensible. nother lady says that on regaining her senses. she discovered that her car-rings, a diamond pinnd her fuger-rings had all been taken. dea that sheh a performance was the result of friedle si teoliése

The railroad company bays offered a reward of 2,000 for the detection of any party connected In this cold-blooded atrocity. It is stated that two arrests have been made of persons suspected f complicity in the act. To day the wreek is cing removed. Amid all the horrors of the situation, some inlierous scenes were enacted. A mother lost her child and after a protracted search found a babo got started for Petroleum as I supposed. Walkin the wreck, but it was another. Her own turned up in due season and it was altogether how far it was to the Centre : be said I was travunburt. One old gentleman with a bleeding and ching the wrong way for the Centre. disfigured countenance tushed frantically from time I went'up close to him and saw that it was one place to another shouting, "Oh, my gold this Wilson that was put off first. Arrest of Parties Charged with Placing Obstructions on the Track of the Oil

Creek Rail Road. We stated yesterday in brief, that Deputy Sheriff Harris, of Picasantville, had arrived in town, having in enstody a man accused of placing road, about a month since, for whose apprehension a reward of $1,000 was offered. Mr. Harris has made his mark as a skillful detective in turious crimmal cases of note in the oil regions. and has addressed blusself with unusual vigitance for the last few weeks in farreting out the perpetrator of this dustardly outrage, and we are success. Having settled in his mind that the guilty parties probably resided on Oil Creek, hu has been on the witch a long time in ascertaining the associations of certain had characters was detected, he offered Harris tifty dollars to let him go, but finding this appeal tost upon the officer, he changed his tactics, and made a clean breast of the whole affile, involving another party, and screening himself to some extent, but leaving the impression on the persons who heard his confession that he was one of the conspirators

The petroleum market this forenoon was elightly The potroicum market this forenoon was signity more active than yesterplay, as It was supposed that figures had near about touched bottom, and it would be aste to buy in anticipation of n rise in the market therefore some of the Cleveland, Pittsburg and home buyers were on the qut vire, and proparing to negotiate. This stimulated the helders and producers, and they were firm at rates current resterday. Some were sanguine of a general advance that they felt at their case in regard to closing bargains at yesterday's quota-tions, but alast advices came from the East reporting tions, but class addees came from the East reporting crude in package at 21% (22% week, and 15c in butk, al-so that the market was bordering on a panic. This news produced considerable commotion here, and par-ital-endeavoring to negotiate, abundanced the narket en-tirely in expectation of a decline, and are apparently averse to operating until such a change takes place, in consequence of which, the market closed very flat, and nombasity lower.
